УНИВЕРСАЛЬНАЯ ПРИРОДА МЕТАФОР

Номинация в языкознании, в частности в ономастике, — это процесс наименования, при котором языковые единицы, выбранные в качестве номинатива, соответствуют референтным объектам. В акте номинации присутствуют три компонента: названный предмет, именной предмет и необходимые для номинации языковые средства. В основе образовательной единицы лежит знак номинатива, образующий внутреннюю форму имени и относящийся как к называемому объекту, так и к именованному предмету. Законы номинации выражаются в каждом речевом акте, где название предмета, как показывает практика, основано на выделении его признаков. В этом случае наряду с первичной единицей именительного падежа, исторически закреплённой за предметом, может сосуществовать и вторичное имя - результат вторичной категории, выполняющей дополнительную функцию, называемую образом предмета. Вторичное, неофициальное, название более позднего времени образования, обусловленного ассоциативным характером человеческого мышления, т. е. основанного на ассоциациях. Эту ассоциацию можно получить как на основе физического сходства, так и на основе сходства свойств или функций объекта. Собственные имена, образовавшиеся в результате вторичной категории, основаны на переосмыслении ценностей в форме тропов, в частности метафоры.

Изучение метафоры актуально и в настоящее время, поскольку она представляет собой явление, связанное с человеком и языком, отражает взаимообусловленность мышления с особенностями
